

CHEWTON GLEN

We proudly offer a selection of individual wines which makes our wine list one of the largest in England in terms of producers, regions, diversity. Our wish is to showcase up-and-coming styles that we deem quirky and individual, whilst tipping our hat to the most reputable wine regions. We endorse the UK wine industry with the country's largest selection of sparkling wines.

The Sommelier Team is on hand to offer guidance and to serve our wines with passion and enthusiasm.

We hope that you enjoy perusing our Multi-Awarded Wine List

SANCERRE & POUILLY FUMÉ'...FAST FACTS!

On the eastern end of the Loire Valley in France sit the two communes of Sancerre and Pouilly-Fumé where arguably the best Sauvignon Blanc in the world is produced. Whilst new world producers in New Zealand and elsewhere are creating excellent fruit driven Sauvignon Blancs, the producers in the Loire Valley excel in complex mineral driven versions. Wine has been produced near the town of Sancerre for hundreds of years. Its wines were served on the royal tables in the 13th century, but they were not the wonderful white wine Sancerre is famous for today. They were red wines, most likely Pinot Noir and Gamay. The first successfully produced white wines were sweet whites made in the 1800's.

CERVARO DELLA SALA

The name Cervaro comes from the noble family that owned Castello della Sala during the 14th century, Monaldeschi della Cervara. A blend of Chardonnay grapes and a small quantity of Grechetto make a wine that can age over time and represent the elegance and complexity of this unique estate. Cervaro della Sala is one of the first Italian white wines to have malolactic fermentation and aging take place in barriques. The first vintage of Cervaro to be produced was the 1985 vintage.

| 0611 | 2011 | Château Lafleur | 1,739 |
| 0614 | 2014 | Château Lafleur | 1,680 |

Château Lafleur has been in the same family since its inception in 1872 – Baptiste is the great great great grandson of Henri Greloud, its founder. Jacques and Sylvie and their three children have been the exclusive owners since 2001, although they had previously been leasing the vineyards following the death of Therese Robin in 1984.

Since their arrival there has been an even more quality focussed approach to all aspects of viticulture and vinification. Few winemakers can speak about their terroir with such knowledge. After the first full geological survey in 1999, Jacques decided to change Pensees de Lafleur from a traditional 'second wine' into a separate Cru. It was this understanding of their vineyard and particularly the geological fault that runs diagonally through vineyard that is missing much of the gravel content that makes Lafleur so unique. This clay dominated soils are better suited to Merlot and fashion a more 'traditional' style of Pomerol.

Only natural fertilizers are used, yields are low and they practice a less-is-more attitude when it comes to vinification; they let their terroir speak through, and the results are simply astonishing.
